☞ Kingsians ~ Trees ~ Harmony

- We are happy to announce that our beloved "Fig Tree" is now in a fruitful and healthy state. Being an icon of King's College and forming part of our "living heritage", the Fig Tree is dear to our hearts and has been a witness to the history of King's College over the decades. It evokes happy memories and adds colour to our lives. We share the common goal of ensuring the safety of students while preserving the Fig Tree without it posing any adverse structural impact on the school building, which is a historic building under the Antiquities and Monuments Ordinance. However, as the Scriptures say, "To everything there is a season". Every Kingsian matures and so does our Fig Tree. Its growth is affected by the natural cycle and the environment. We will take proper care of it and minimize any threats it might impose, so that we can live together in harmony with our beloved "Fig Tree".
